FENZI G9P USED OIL COLLECTION TANK 500LT

The FENZI G9P Used Oil Collection Tank is an ideal solution for the safe containment and management of waste oils. It has a capacity of 500 liters. The FENZI G9P is designed to ensure maximum safety and reliability.

Design and Construction:

The FENZI G9P is built with an innovative double-chamber system, providing an additional layer of protection in case of tank rupture or wear. This advanced system ensures that in case of damage, the contents are contained, preserving safety and environmental sustainability.

Capacity and Dimensions:

The 500-liter model of the FENZI G9P Used Oil Collection Tank has the following specifications:

Capacity: 500 liters
Dimensions: 1000 mm diameter x 1400 mm height
Empty weight: 50 Kg

Material and Durability:

Made of polyethylene, the FENZI G9P ensures superior mechanical and chemical resistance. This material not only makes the tanks robust but also suitable for outdoor installation on any type of terrain. Moreover, the containers are 100% recyclable, with an external containment basin and an internal basin, contributing to environmental sustainability.

Technical Features:

The FENZI G9P Used Oil Collection Tank is equipped with:

- Hermetic lid to prevent leaks and contamination
- Hermetic manhole to facilitate safe filling and emptying
- Level indicator for easy monitoring of oil quantity
- Removable filter drainer, compliant with D.M. 392/96 regulations, for easy and quick maintenance

Optional Accessories:

To enhance functionality, a ground support plate for containing small leaks is available upon request.

This additional accessory enhances operational safety and prevents potential soil contamination.

Usage and Applications:

The FENZI tank for waste oil recovery is primarily designed to contain used oils, making it ideal for mechanical workshops, industries, and sectors requiring efficient management of oily waste. Its 500-liter capacity is perfect for constrained spaces requiring safe and compliant storage.

In summary, the FENZI G9P Used Oil Collection Tank is an excellent solution for those seeking a reliable, safe, and environmentally friendly container. With a 500-liter capacity, these tanks offer a unique combination of robustness, functionality, and sustainability, making them an ideal choice for a wide range of applications.
